Discover the I-START program, created by Stallergenes Greer.

I-START is a gateway initiative to support healthcare professionals in going beyond treating respiratory allergy symptoms and addressing the underlying cause of allergic disease. The program aims to improve the daily lives of patients with respiratory allergies by raising awareness and sharing knowledge on the immunological treatment options available through creative and targeted initiatives. For more information visit www.facingallergies.com or speak to your Stallergenes Greer representative.
